

Official Paint of the Las Vegas Raiders®

PPG provides coatings for the new, state-of-the-art Allegiant Stadium in Las Vegas.

Case study

The Customer

Las Vegas Raiders®

The Location

Las Vegas, NV

The Challenge

Allegiant Stadium is a global events destination with a distinctive black and silver exterior and spectacular views of the Las Vegas Strip. PPG had to match these key colors and ensure this stadium reflected the visually stunning aesthetic that would be expected of a Las Vegas destination. This project required a tight adherence to deadlines, so coatings that would be easy to apply with long-lasting protection were necessary.

The Solution

PPG recommended the PPG AMERCOAT® 68 HS and PPG PSX® 700 coatings system for this project. PPG AMERCOAT 68 HS is a three-component zinc-rich epoxy primer that provides excellent corrosion protection with the ability to be top coated quickly. As this primer is made for carbon steel substrates and is ideal for projects where fast turnaround is needed, it helped with keeping the project on schedule. To meet the striking silver and black color requirements, MANICA Architecture specified PPG PSX 700 in “Black Gold” and “Silver Fox” colors. PPG PSX covered the building’s exposed and unexposed structural steel due to its extended resistance to ultraviolet (UV) exposure.

The Benefits

PPG PSX 700 hits the three critical points of easy application, lasting protection and outstanding visual aesthetics, which were all requirements of a highly visible project like the new Allegiant Stadium. With its excellent adhesion, outstanding corrosion and chemical resistance and long-term gloss and color retention, PPG PSX 700 was the perfect choice. It significantly outlasts the best three-coat systems for long-lasting protection for Allegiant Stadium.

The Result

Protective and decorative coatings from PPG’s industrial, refinish, protective and marine, and architectural coatings businesses give the stadium its sleek look that stands out amidst the famous Las Vegas strip.
